

Seppo Ikaheimo Professor of Accounting (Corporate Governance) and Head of Department, Department of Accounting Aalto University School of Business, Finland, seppo.ikaheimo@aalto.fi

Seppo completed his PhD in Turku School of Economics. His main research interests focus on corporate governance including quality of corporate governance, investor relations, compensation systems, board work, three lines of defense and quality of financial reporting. Research methods vary from quantitative data analysis with public and private data to qualitative interview-based approaches. He is a member of advisory board at WU (Vienna, Austria). Seppo has published articles in, among others, European Accounting Review, Management Science, Review of Economics and Statistics, Corporate Governance: An International Review, Management Accounting Research, Journal of Empirical Finance and International Journal of Accounting Information Systems. He has an active role in practice including membership in national working group of EPSAS, national corporate takeover board and several court cases covering f. ex. company valuation and product costing.