

Naser Makarem is an assistant professor in accounting at the University of Aberdeen.

Naser obtained his PhD in Accounting from the University of Aberdeen.

Naser contributes to DEI initiatives through his role as Chair of the DEI Committee at the University of Aberdeen Business School and through his involvement in Athena SWAN. He also has working knowledge of the Middle East and has studied gender diversity in that region. His area of research interest is financial reporting and non-financial disclosures. He has a clear vision of the DEIC as an opportunity to apply a systematic approach to address DEI gaps.