

Full or Associate Professor in Financial Accounting and Auditing

Job Description & Qualification

NHH Norwegian School of Economics in Bergen, Norway invites applications for a position as Full or Associate Professor in Financial Accounting and Auditing Department of Accounting, Auditing and Law. The start date of the job will be agreed upon with the candidate. The Department offers a stimulating research environment with internationally renowned research groups in a wide range of fields, providing high quality research and teaching. For more information, please visit our department webpage (<https://www.nhh.no/en/departments/accounting-auditing-and-law/>).

The Department has an active research environment and a broad international research network in Financial Accounting and Auditing. According to the BYU Accounting Research Rankings (2021), NHH is ranked highest among the Nordic business schools in accounting research (http://www.byuaccounting.net/rankings/univrank/per_univ_cnt.php?univid=375&univname=Norwegian%20School%20of%20Economics).

We seek to fill the position with an experienced researcher with emphasis on empirical financial accounting and auditing research. Candidates must possess a doctorate degree in accounting or closely related field from an internationally accredited institution and have an excellent academic record in both research and teaching. Successful candidates must have an outstanding publication record and an active research program with the demonstrated ability or clear potential to be published in highly ranked academic journals (such as ABS level 4 * or 4 journals). International research experience and collaboration are highly valued.

In addition to research activities, the position involves teaching, supervision and some administrative work. Candidates will be evaluated based on their documented professional competence overall, including their past academic record, current work in process and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Candidates that cannot document at least 200 hours of pedagogical coursework when hired must complete the NHH programme on basic pedagogical competence within two years. Appointees who are not fluent in a Scandinavian language will be offered Norwegian language classes.

We will be available to meet up for a chat about the position at the EAA Annual Congress on May 11-13, 2022, which NHH will host in Bergen, Norway (<https://eaa2022.eaacongress.org/r/home>). Interested candidates are welcome to schedule a meeting with us through email.

Application Procedure

The application should contain details of the applicant's scientific and pedagogical education and work experience. In addition, the applicant should provide an overview and assessment of his/her teaching experience, documentation of teaching quality, and a working paper for the job talk. The application and enclosed documentation, including a CV, a teaching portfolio, a list of publications, certificates with grades, and any other relevant documentation should be sent online. maximum of 10 (for the Associate Professor position) / 15 (for the Full Professor position) publications and working papers should also be attached for evaluation.
