

Accounting, Schulich School of Business, York University, Toronto Canada

Consistently ranked in the top tier of the world's best business schools and #1 in Canada, the Schulich School of Business is known for its global reach, innovative programming and the diversity of its student body, faculty and staff. Schulich enrolls some 3,000 students in undergraduate, graduate and postgraduate business degree programs leading to careers in the private, public and not-for-profit sectors. Located in Toronto, Canada, the School's multimillion-dollar, award-winning complex is on York University's main campus. Schulich's downtown Miles S. Nadal Management Centre is situated in the heart of the city's financial district.

The Schulich School of Business is seeking to hire an emerging or established scholar and educator in Accounting for a tenure-track or tenured professorial stream position at the rank of Assistant, Associate or Full Professor effective January 1, 2023 or July 1, 2023. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. All York University positions are subject to budgetary approval.

Applicants at the Assistant Professor level should have advanced working papers, or recently accepted manuscripts, demonstrating the potential for publishing in top tier accounting journals. Preference will be given to scholars doing empirical-archival research in one of the following areas: management accounting, financial accounting, auditing, taxation or accounting analytics. Applicants at more senior levels should have a demonstrated track record of impactful research and teaching in these same areas.

Candidates will have a, or will soon be awarded, a PhD in accounting. Preference will be given to candidates who hold a recognized professional accounting designation. Candidates who are at more advanced career stages should be able to assist with the supervision of PhD students and to teach advanced courses in the Master of Accounting Program, as well as in the BBA, MBA and PhD Programs. Advanced candidates should also be able to demonstrate teaching excellence, with curriculum development as an asset. Advanced candidates will also be expected to contribute positively to the collegial governance of the Accounting Area and the School as a whole.

The successful candidate will be expected to engage in outstanding, innovative, and, as appropriate, externally funded research at the highest level.

Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence of a recognized international calibre as demonstrated in: the research statement; a record of publications (or forthcoming publications) with significant journals in the field; presentations at major conferences; awards and accolades; and strong recommendations from referees of high standing.

The position will involve graduate teaching and supervision, as well as undergraduate teaching and the successful candidate must be suitable for prompt appointment to the Faculty of Graduate Studies.

Evidence of excellence in teaching will be provided through: the teaching statement; teaching accomplishments and pedagogical innovations including in high priority areas such as experiential education and technology enhanced learning; teaching evaluations; and strong letters of reference.

York University has a policy on Accommodation in Employment for Persons with Disabilities and is committed to working towards a barrier-free workplace and to expanding the accessibility of the workplace to persons with disabilities. Candidates who require accommodation during the selection process are invited to contact Amin Mawani, Chair of the Search Committee at actg-recruit@schulich.yorku.ca.

York University is an Affirmative Action (AA) employer and strongly values diversity, including gender and sexual diversity, within its community. The AA Program, which applies to women, members of visible minorities (racialized groups), Aboriginal (Indigenous) people and persons with disabilities, can be found at www.yorku.ca/acadjobs or by calling the AA line at 416-736-5713. Applicants wishing to self-identify as part of York University's Affirmative Action program can do so by downloading, completing and submitting the form found at: <http://acadjobs.info.yorku.ca/affirmative-action/self-identification-form>. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens, permanent residents and Indigenous peoples in Canada will be given priority. No application will be considered without a completed mandatory Work Status Declaration form which can be found at <http://acadjobs.info.yorku.ca/affirmative-action/work-authorization-form>.

Applicants should e-mail an application letter, curriculum vitae, samples of research papers, three signed letters of reference, and information regarding teaching to: Amin Mawani, Chair, Recruiting Committee, Schulich School of Business, York University, at actg-recruit@schulich.yorku.ca

Deadline for applications is September 30, 2022.