Call for Papers:

The Doctoral Program in International Business Taxation at WU Vienna (DIBT) and its two business faculty members, Prof. Eva Eberhartinger and Prof. Caren Sureth are happy to announce the 4th Vienna Doctoral Consortium in Taxation, which will be held at WU Vienna on November 22 and 23, 2018. The consortium offers an excellent opportunity for PhD-students and Post-Doctoral researchers to discuss current research and to receive constructive feedback on their research projects.

Submitted papers shall have a strong focus on international business taxation and approach research questions from a management / accounting perspective. In particular, this includes topics of supra-national relevance.

Each paper session involves 15 minutes of presentation, followed by 45 minutes discussion through a pre-assigned discussant and through open discussion. The entire Vienna Doctoral Consortium in Taxation will be held in English.

Participation fees of 50 Euros will be charged. An invoice will be sent by email after participants' registration. Please note that funding is not available, participants are expected to cover their expenses.

Submission Guidelines:

The submission shall include a cover page and a research proposal. The cover page shall include the title of the paper and a list of all (co)-authors together with their affiliation. The research proposal shall consist of an extended abstract of roughly one or two pages including: Motivation, Research Question(s), Method, Research Gap and Contribution. Additionally, researchers are encouraged to submit a (preliminary) full paper accompanying their research proposal if available. Please, submit via e-mail to nadia.genest@wu.ac.at. The full paper must be available in time.

Deadlines:

Submission of Research Proposal: 25 June 2018

Notification of Acceptance, subject to submission of final paper: 6 July 2018

Submission of Final Papers: 31 October 2018
