

MODAVICA 2019 CALL FOR PAPERS

Conference Theme: Critical issues for the future of accounting

October 22-25, 2020, Ankara

MODAVICA 2020 international conference; aims to shed light to the future of accounting to assess the role of accounting science and practice within business research. In the next decade developments in the digital technology, new technological products, regulatory changes as a result of the changes, volatile global environment will inevitably bring changes in accounting. Conference intends bring academics together to explore and discuss accounting science in conjunction with other areas of business research and other areas. In this respect, the contributions from academics in different areas of business such as marketing, organization, finance, production planning and social sciences like law, sociology, psychology, artificial intelligence political economics, is expected to increase the efficiency and diversity of discussions in accounting discipline. Conference topics are provided below; however papers in other areas of accounting with interdisciplinary perspectives will be given consideration.

Expectation from Digital Accounting	Technology and Accounting Disclosure Future
Culture, Globalization, and Political Issues	Emotional and Creative Intelligence and Accounting
Assurance, Auditing and Technological Development	Gender Issues in Accounting
Management Accounting and Control	Strategic Planning Humans, Technology and Vision
Corporate Governance and Performance Management	Environment, Social Accounting, CSR and Social Impacts
Ethics and Technology	Critical Interdisciplinary Perspectives
Not-for-Profit, NGO's and Social Business	Globalization, Regulations and Accounting

Extended abstracts should be submitted by August 10, 2020. Sections included in the extended abstract as follows:

1. Abstract and Keywords,
2. Introduction including the aim of the study, research questions, hypothesis development, related theoretical literature.
3. Methodology including theoretical background for selection of the methodology with detailed explanation.
4. Results, including results or preliminary results of the study.
5. Conclusion including generalized results of the study, its implications for research and application, research limitations, directions for future research.
6. References.

These sections can be subdivided into more sections or could include different section names. Extended abstracts should not exceed 5 pages including tables and references. Write-up should be Times New Roman 11 punt, normal margins, APA format. Papers can be submitted in English or Turkish. Extended abstracts will be published as conference proceedings electronically. Researchers can submit full papers to World of Accounting Science journal for fast track review process after the conference. Please send your extended abstracts to modavica2020@modav.org.tr

Important Dates:

10 August 2020

Last Date to send extended abstracts

15 September 2020

Notification of accepted extended abstracts for presentation

16 October 2020

Last date for early admission