Second call for papers

We are pleased to announce the second call for papers for the 10th European Risk Conference organised by the European Risk Research Network (ERRN). The conference will be held in presence on 28th and 29th September 2023 at the University of Bari Aldo Moro and is targeted at academics and practitioners working in risk and risk management. Online attendance will be also available. The theme of this year's conference is 'Global Risk Challenges'.

Some of the papers accepted and presented at the Conference will be selected for publication consideration in one of the following journals: The British Accounting Review, Journal of Management and Governance, Meditari Accountancy Research, Management and Control, Financial Reporting and Studies in Risk and Sustainable Development. The publication opportunities are detailed at the bottom of the call.

We welcome papers across the broad spectrum of risk and risk management. Submissions may adopt a wide variety of theoretical approaches and either qualitative or quantitative methodologies. Examples of topics include, but are not restricted to:

- environmental risks, e.g. climate and biodiversity risk, energy risk, green transition risks
- social risks, e.g. social fragmentation risk, livelihood risk
- risk management systems including ERM
- risk behaviours and their impacts
- risk reporting and risk communication
- risk measurement
- risk culture
- risk and resilience
- regulating risk
- risk management and big data
- cyber risk

Conference submissions, either in the form of an extended abstract (1,000 words) or a full paper, should be submitted to 2023errnconference@gmail.com by 31st May 2023.

Conference format and key-note speakers

The ERRN Conference format combines presentations and discussions led by both practitioners and academics. The key-note speakers of this year's conference are: Annalisa Prencipe, Bocconi University, current EAA president, Charl de Villiers, University of Auckland, New Zealand, Editor-in-Chief of Meditari Accountancy Research, and Don Pagach, North Carolina State University, Director of Research for Enterprise Risk Management Initiative.

Half day of 28th September 2023 will be dedicated to a Business Forum with leading speakers from the risk management profession, regulation, consultancy, and financial services, addressing the Risk Global Challenges of current times.

There will also be a panel session with the editors of a few leading accounting and management journals. Editors will be pleased to answer questions on how to get published in these journals.

The conference also includes an emerging scholars' colloquium open to both doctoral students and early career researchers who are attending the conference and wish to take advantage of the opportunity to discuss their work on a one-to-one basis with experienced academic researchers. The Colloquium is organized in collaboration with the International Centre of Research Excellence in Transition of Coal Regions (ExCORE) project. Places are strictly limited, thus pre-booking is essential.

The papers presented at the emerging scholar's colloquium will be considered for a best paper award.

Journals associated to the Conference

The British Accounting Review welcomes submission of ERRN papers to its regular issues in late 2024.

Please note that the submissions of the ERRN papers will be subject to the journal's normal review processes and there is no guarantee that they will eventually be accepted for publication

The Journal of Management and Governance welcomes submissions on topics that are within its Aims and Scope. A number of papers presented will be selected for a Fast-Track process of publication*.

*The JMG Fast-Track (JMG-FT) review process of publication gives the opportunity of a paper review process quicker than that of an ordinary submission. The selected paper is immediately inserted in the review process without undergoing the first desk-rejection assessment phase. This process is applicable to a maximum of 3 papers presented at the track in which the JMG-FT is accorded. The formula does not guarantee the publication of the submitted paper, which must positively pass the peer-review process.

Meditari Accountancy Research welcomes submission of ERRN papers to a regular issue in late 2024.

Some of the papers presented at the Conference will be invited to be submitted to Meditari Accountancy Research. Please note that these papers will be subjected to a full review process upon submission and that an invitation to submit does not guarantee the eventual acceptance of the paper for publication.

Financial Reporting welcomes submission of ERRN papers that fall within its Aims and Scope (<https://frjournal.eu/journal/aims-and-scope/>). Publication is expected in a regular issue in late 2024 or early 2025.

Some of the papers presented at the conference will be invited to be submitted to Financial Reporting. Please note that these papers will be subjected to a full review process upon submission and that an invitation to submit does not guarantee the eventual acceptance of the paper for publication.

Studies in Risk and Sustainable Development (SRSD) welcomes submissions of ERRN papers that fall within the journal aims and scope (<https://srsd.ue.katowice.pl/>).

Papers will be published in regular issue No 398 (2024) that closes in March, 2024.

SRSD is an on-line journal issued by the Publishing House of the University of Economics in Katowice. The SRSD is proud to continue over 60-years long history of the research papers published by the University of Economics in Katowice. Publication is free of charge, the papers are published on-line, after the acceptance.
